U. S. Shocked by Traffic Toll

It's traditional, about this time of year, for our elders to reminisce about the sugar and spice of the "good old days."

The familiar strains of "Auld Lang Syne" seems to replace in their ears the humdrum echoes of such controversial subjects as one-way streets, taxes and juvenile delinquency.

Instead, we hear how grandpa courted grandma with only a horse and buggy . . . of buying a loaf of bread for a few pennies . . . of walking several miles through snow drifts to attend a simple country school . . . and of the town character.

We've done a little checking on these "good old days," thanks to old Dixon ordinances made available by City Clerk Irene Hamill, to see what kind of law and order was needed in those days.

The first town ordinances were drawn up on April 27, 1853, by the board of trustees of Dixon. Members of this board were John Dixon, president; A. L. Porte, Lorenson Wood and P. M. Alexander. A. B. Judet was the clerk.

(Dixon's charter was approved Feb. 10, 1853, and awarded a month later.)

Topping the list was a general declaration of what was considered to be a "nuisance": swine and sheep running at large on public grounds, slaughter houses, dead animals, manure, fish and hides laying uncovered on public streets.

To keep the city streets and alleys in good repair, it was the duty of the street inspector to call upon every male over 21 years of age to perform an allotted number of days labor each year.

The inspector was obliged to give the men three days' notice and to inform them what tools to bring. A male citizen shirking his duty was subject to a $1 fine.

Included in the first list of ordinances were these laws: a $10 fine for driving or riding animals faster than eight miles an hour; a $5 fine for discharging firearms in the city, and a $3 to $10 fine for disturbing the peace.

On Jan. 26, 1861, an ordinance was passed to prohibit a person from riding or driving a horse or mule "faster than a walk" across the Galena Avenue bridge. The fine for such an offense was $10.

Six years later, an ordinance was passed to prohibit a person from riding or driving a team of horses, mule or beast of burden at a gait faster than a walk "in or upon and bridge now built or hereafter built across the rock river." The fine was $5 to $25.

A provision was added to assess a fine of $10 to $50 for riding or driving more than 10 animals across the bridge at one time.

Also in that year an ordinance was passed to prohibit a person to "swim or bathe in the Rock River within the limits of the city between one hour before sunrise and one hour after sunset if naked or insufficiently clothed to prevent improper exposure of his or her person."

Violation of this ordinance meant a fine of $1 to $50.

Another ordinance passed in 1867 was designed to raise money. The annual license for bankers, money brokers, pawn brokers and exchange dealers was $50. It was $10 for butchers or vendors of fresh meat, $25 for retail peddlers and $5 for wholesale peddlers.

The fine for throwing stones or missiles at buildings, shade or fruit trees was $2 to $50.

In 1869, an ordinance was passed to collect a toll on bridges across the Rock River. The rates were:

A wagon drawn by one or two horses, 25 cents; a vehicle drawn by four animals, 40 cents (10 cents for each additional animal); a person leading or riding an animal, 15 cents; a foot passenger, five cents; five cents per head for horses, mules or cattle and one-cent per head for hogs and sheep.

Women and children attending church, Sabbath school and day school and ministers of the gospel and their families were allowed to cross free of charge.

On April 18, 1871, an ordinance was passed to prohibit vending of

IEA President Warns of 'Minimum' School Goals

State Must Relieve Tax Burden On Real Estate Owners, He Says

CHICAGO (U)—The president of the Illinois Education Assn. declared today the state may be settling for only "minimum standards" in education.

William H. Carruthers, IEA president and superintendent of schools at Murphysboro, addressed the first business session of the IEA meeting in Chicago attended by some 550 delegates.

"In recent years," said Carruthers, "we have heard a great deal about the 'guarantee of minimum educational opportunities,' 'minimum programs,' 'foundation levels,' 'minimum wage scales,' and the like. One wonders if we are not indeed developing a concept of support of education which emphasizes minimum standards rather than maximum goals."

Need New Philosophy
"Perhaps," he added, "the time has come when education should be freed from the narrow confines of the philosophy that the minimum is good enough."

Carruthers advocated consideration of a "breakthrough," directing "our efforts toward providing the best educational program for all the children."

"We must know," he said, "that education is not an expense, but an investment in people and the best safeguard of our liberties."

During preliminary sessions Tuesday, Carruthers said in an interview that the present state school tax program is "antiquated."

He said the state must either restrict school opportunities or change its basic tax system to take a little of the school burden off real estate owners.

He cited a retired couple who own their own home, have a retirement pension, and just manage to get along. Yet they pay burdensome school taxes while a renter with a high income pays none.

Carruthers said neither he nor the IEA advocates a state income tax but something must be done to distribute school contributions more evenly.

The IEA was expected to act on a variety of resolutions dealing with such subjects as federal support for education, taxes, school reorganization and school housing, integration, and accreditation of teacher education.

Key West City Council Acts To Honor Ike

KEY WEST, Fla. (U)—The City Council, learning that President Eisenhower will visit this island, hastily named a street for him in a telephone meeting Tuesday night.

North Beach Road was renamed Eisenhower Drive. It intersects with Roosevelt Boulevard and Truman Avenue, named for other presidential guests.

Official action of renaming the street will come Monday but the city officials have arranged to place one street marker on the corner for the President to see as he is driven through town.

No Easy Way to Escape a Hangover, Says Scientist

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTA (U)—Don't count on a walk in fresh air to sober up quickly if you over imbibe on New Year's Eve.

For getting more oxygen doesn't help you burn up excess alcohol faster, a scientist said today. A few lungfuls of fresh air won't make you a safer driver.

The tip comes from Dr. Theodore Koppányi, professor of pharmacology at the Georgetown University Medical School, Washington, D. C. Dr. Koppányi discussed alcoholic poisoning in a paper prepared for the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Takes Time
It takes five to six hours for your body to burn up four ounces of whiskey, he said. And experiments indicating that breathing nearly pure oxygen speeds sobering are not borne out by other studies.

There's also disagreement whether injections of insulin or a sugar, glucose, speed the rate of burning up alcohol.

From limited experiments, injections of another form of sugar, fructose, do look promising for making the human body get rid of alcohol faster, the scientist said.

Another study—not mentioned by Dr. Koppányi in his talk—has reported benefits from eating honey in sobering up and avoiding hangover. Honey contains fructose.

Dr. Koppányi said enough drinks to make your blood contain from 0.15 to 0.45 per cent (15 to 45 hundredths per cent) alcohol produce inebriation. More drinks than that produce coma. A blood content of from 1 to 1 per cent alcohol "is within the possibly fatal range."

Low Margin

He warned there is a "low margin of safety" between an anesthetic dose of alcohol and a lethal dose. The fatal dose varies with individuals, but drinking from one to two pints of 100 proof distilled whiskey in a short time has killed people.

There is no specific, reliable treatment for severe alcoholic coma, he said. Good nursing care and use of certain drugs sometimes are very useful.

Bureau County Weekly Sued for Million Dollars

PRINCETON, Ill. (U)—The Bureau County state's attorney sued a weekly newspaper, for one million dollars damages today, alleging it published an article injurious to his reputation.

The article, commenting on handling of gambling prosecutions, was written by the Rev. Grafton M. Thomas, pastor of the Spring Valley Congregational Church, who was not named a defendant.

It appeared in the Nov. 10, 1955, edition of the Bureau County Republican. In his Circuit Court suit the state's attorney, Calvin W. J. Phelps, named as individual defendants Mrs. Mary Bailey, publisher of the weekly; Donald Hoel, general manager, and Theodore Duffield, editor.

Phelps asked $250,000 dollars damages for alleged injury to his name and reputation; $250,000 for alleged damage to his business and financial standing, and $500,000 in punitive damages for alleged malicious conduct by the defendants.

Illinois 'Warm'

CHICAGO (U)—Illinoisians basked in warm temperatures again today but a touch of winter is to return Thursday to the northern part of the state.

Temperatures today are to range from the 40s in the north to over 50 in the southern part of the state. Thursday however, colder weather with occasional rain is predicted in the north and cloudy weather with occasional rain elsewhere.

Overnight lows included St. Louis 32, Peoria, Quincy and Vandalia 29, Springfield 28, Chicago 27, and Rockford 24.

Bike Tags Due

Chief of Police Earl Kelchner today announced that Wednesday, Jan. 5, is the deadline for purchasing bicycle license tags.

He warned that persons riding bicycles in Dixon after that date without a license will be arrested and issued a ticket.

The licenses are 25 cents each and are good for one year. They are to be displayed on the rear fender of the bicycle. Tags can be purchased at the police station.

British Comet Spans Atlantic in 6 Hours

Claim New Mark for Crossing

Climaxes 35,000 Mile Tour With Shattering Flight

LONDON (U)—Britain's glittering Comet III jetliner streaked non-stop across the Atlantic from Montreal to London today in a shattering 6 hours, 8 minutes. The plane's builders immediately claimed a North Atlantic record for civil airliners.

The 74-ton, four-jet aircraft covered the 3,350 miles to the London airport beam at an average speed of 548 miles an hour, whizzing through overcast skies to touch down at London Airport for a tumultuous welcome.

Strong tail winds boosted the plane's speed over the Atlantic to more than 540 miles an hour at times.

Not "Official"

A spokesman for the Royal Aero Club, which keeps air records, said however, that the Comet's flight was not officially observed "so it will not be regarded as a record." He said there was "no existing official record between Montreal and London."

The trip ended a 35,000-mile round-the-world proving flight by Capt. John Cunningham and his crew of 10 which began in Hatfield, England, Dec. 2 and took the Comet to Cairo, Bombay, Singapore, Darwin, Sydney, Melbourne, Perth, Auckland, Fiji, Honolulu, Vancouver, Toronto and Montreal.

The plane's actual time from the Montreal takeoff to the London landing was 6 hours 18 minutes, but for record purposes the flight was figured to the time of crossing the airport beam.

Just A Model

The Comet III, a forerunner of Britain's newest bid to take the lead in commercial jet aviation, will never fly the world's air routes with a payload.

It is a proving model for the de Havilland Aircraft Company's bigger and more luxurious Comet IV, which the British Overseas Airways Corp. hopes to have in service in 1959.

Not will BOAC use the Comet IV on the North Atlantic crossing, because its payload distance does not give the minimum safety margin for the long flight. Instead it will operate on Far Eastern and South American routes, with big turbo-prop planes flying the North Atlantic.

Two Die in Freeport of Auto Crashes

FREEPORT, Ill. (U)—Two persons died today in a Freeport hospital of injuries suffered in separate automobile collisions Monday. Mrs. Francis Leubuey of South Beloit, Ill., was injured during a snow storm near Leaf River.

Russell Frederick, 39, of Freeport, was hurt on State Route 29 north of Freeport.

Kids Mourn Cop

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U)—A 73-year-old Grandview Village policeman was mourned today by school children and their mothers.

John H. "Uncle John" Hamrichs died Tuesday, apparently as the result of a hip fracture he suffered Dec. 14 in a fall on ice while he stood guarding the children at a crossing.

Dixon's Share of October Sales Tax Will Be $8,659

The optional half-cent sales tax levied in Dixon during October and collected in November will net the city $8,659, according to the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The amount levied in September and collected in November was $8,488.31. The city of Dixon received the money earlier this month.

These amounts represent the city's share of taxes based on retail sales. The tax, passed under the emergency clause, went into effect here Sept. 1.

Total November collections of the half-cent sales tax netted 494 Illinois cities $3,143,824.

Dixon-area cities scheduled to receive revenue from this tax include (September's revenue, if any, is in parentheses):

Ambosy, $1,119 ($706); Ashton, $339 (0); Byron, $787 ($59); DeKalb, $9,547 ($7,402); Forreston, $731 ($672); Franklin Grove, $267 ($262); Oregon, $2,366 ($2,026); Ottawa, $11,439 ($11,430); Pawpaw, $312 (0); Polo, $1,110 (0); Princeton, $4,328 ($3,790); Rock Falls, $3,409 ($2,813); and Sterling, $10,018 ($7,715).

President Heads for Key West, Sun, Rest, Exercise

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower flew out of Washington's cold weather today headed for Key West, Fla., and about two weeks of the sun, rest and outdoor exercise his doctors have prescribed.

The presidential plane Columbine III took off from National Airport at 8:15 a.m. CST. It was due at Boca Chica Airport, Key West, in something under four hours.

Physicians recommended warmer weather and more chance to get outdoors to help with Eisenhower's convalescence from his Sept. 21 heart attack.

Could Be Important

His stay could be an important factor in his decision on whether to seek a second term. His doctors hope the trip will condition him for resumption of a full work load in about two weeks.

How his heart stands that load could tip the scales one way or the other so far as a re-election bid is concerned.

The Key West visit was announced late Tuesday. Eisenhower will stay at the same naval base which was a favorite vacation spot of former President Truman.

He will occupy quarters which he used in 1949 when, as president of Columbia University, he recuperated at Key West from a gastrointestinal attack. The quarters

New Sewer Plan Is Unopposed

Improvement Board Lacks Quorum So Scheme Delayed

Despite a higher assessment, the scheme for the proposed sanitary sewer in the Jay Dee Avenue and Ninth Street area was unopposed at a public hearing before the Dixon board of local improvements Tuesday night.

The estimated cost of the improvement is $12,280.98 or about $410 for each connection.

A similar scheme was approved for this area last month. It would have cost $8,426.88 or about $370 for each connection, but the plan was revised when more property owners in the area asked to be included in the improvement.

Acting Mayor C. Lyle Ballard, who is commissioner of finance and one of the three members of the board, was the only member present at the public hearing.

Mayor William Slothover, who heads the board, is vacationing in Arizona and Street Commissioner Orval Gearhart was attending his twice-a-month Air Force reserve meeting.

Ballard indicated that formal approval of the sewer scheme would be made next week since his presence last night did not constitute a quorum.

The sewer will extend on Ninth Street from Lincoln Avenue to about a half-block east of the Illinois Central railroad tracks and on Jay Dee Avenue from the first alley south of Seventh Street to Christiana Terrace Avenue.

Atty. Morey Pires has been appointed commissioner to spread the assessment. It will be pro-rated over a 10-year period.

The original plan was extended to include property on the south-east side of the railroad tracks.

Earlier, during the city council meeting, monthly bills and salaries totaling $24,090 were paid.

Attending the meeting were Ballard and Commissioners Paul Potts and L. J. Welch.

Hague 'Very Sick'

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (U)—Former Mayor Frank Hague was described today by his attorney as "a very sick man."

Hague, now 79, was released Christmas Day from a New York City hospital where he had been reported undergoing a checkup and treatment for a bronchial ailment.

He had been in the hospital since October.

State May Use Guard At New Year

Traffic Experts Forecast Record Toll on Weekend

CHICAGO (U)—Experts who forecast an all-time high toll for the Christmas holidays now predict a record for the New Year weekend.

The National Safety Council today estimated that 420 Americans will be killed on streets and roads during the three-day New Year celebration—"unless there is a sharp improvement in the driving habits that shocked the nation last weekend."

The council predicted 560 motor vehicle fatalities for the three-day

MAY USE GUARD

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U)—Disarmed by Christmas highway fatalities, Illinois governmental chiefs are considering New Year's holiday use of the strongest preventives, such as National Guard patrols.

Gov. William G. Stratton's office said Tuesday he may call out the Guard to patrol state highways next weekend.

Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago said the city police may set up roadblocks over the New Year's holiday to head off drunk drivers.

Illinois' Christmas death toll on highways reached at least 40. Most of these were in Cook County.

Stratton has asked state highway police to have ready for him Thursday in Springfield a breakdown of all the Christmas holiday fatalities as to causes.

His decision on whether to call out the Guard depends on whether he finds most of the accidents were due to weather conditions or to negligence and speed, his office said. Early reports laid most of the blame on the weather.

Christmas holiday. The number added up to 609.

Record Is 407

The record for traffic deaths during a New Year holiday is 407. It was set during a four-day period at the end of 1952 and the start of 1953.

"The cold figures force us to the conclusion that 420 will die," Ned H. Dearborn, council president, set forth in a statement. "But we hope the terrible lesson of the Christmas holiday will be taken to heart by everyone."

Let's look at the "cold figures" of this year. Motor vehicle fatalities through October totaled 30,980. They show a gain of 7 per cent over the total for the corresponding months of 1954.

Statistics figure the year's toll won't come up to the record of 38,696 set in 1941, but it may approach 38,000.

Holidays Worst

The blackest of the "cold figures" were recorded this year on holidays.

During the five 1955 holiday periods traffic accidents cost 2,119 lives and the over-all total—including deaths from all accidental causes—was 3,156.

And the loss of life during the 1955 holidays broke four records. Here are this year's holiday tolls with traffic deaths listed first and deaths from all accidental causes second.

New Year—295 and 362.

Memorial Day—259, traffic record for that holiday, and 759, over-all record for that holiday.

Independence Day—407 and 805, an over-all record for any holiday period.

Labor Day—455 and 511.

Christmas—609, a traffic record for any holiday, and 782.

The New Year holiday period was two days, the others three.

Even on safe driving day—a 24-hour period dedicated to cautious and courteous driving—1955 failed to match the showing of 1954.

The S-D day toll last year was only 51. This year it was 52.

Supervisors to Meet on Jan. 5

Direct Farm Payments May Have High Price

By GEORGE D. PERISHO
Ogle County Farm Adviser

OREGON — (Special) — Christmas is behind us for one more year. Now we can set out thoughts to trimming those few extra pounds that we gained through the holiday season. Don't feel too badly though, at least you helped the overall economy of the country by removing some of the surplus items of food.

Getting back to the direct payment farm program. One of the main disadvantages of such a program would be that the cost might be excessive because of large scale operations and farmers would be required to keep good records so that all products produced or sold would be listed.

Just recently we held a meeting on use of good farm records to give us a better analysis of our farm business with a summarization of each of the livestock enterprises. This would be a good system of bookkeeping under the direct payment farm program.

Many of our farmers would be pleased to receive a direct payment from the government rather than the indirect or possibly hidden subsidy offered through the price support program. It is unlikely there would be any stockpiling for emergencies unless this direct payment program would be accompanied by a stockpiling clause to enable food to be accumulated for emergency use.

One of the major disadvantages of this type of program would be the difficulty of administration as every producer is involved and controls may not be eliminated in order to keep the compensatory payments reasonable. Production might need to be controlled so that there would be only a small difference between the market price and support level. And production will still be out of line with consumer demand. The price would be known but production would be based on total income, market price plus income subsidy.

This concludes the disadvantages of direct payment from program and I would like for you to consider for discussion two questions that will help in bringing about many of the points we have discussed.

(1) Would this method be more consistent with better international trade relations than a storage program?

(2) Is direct income payment any more of a subsidy than a loan or protective tariff?

Beginning next week I would like to bring in the third alternative for possible farm programs. This will be increasing the demand for our farm products.

This week between Christmas and New Year's, it is a good time for each of you to sit down and reflect the many problems that occurred during 1955, and try to arrive at some objective solution for these this coming year. Maybe you did not give the farm program much consideration or possibly there were many things regarding schools, roads and local taxes that should have received your share of attention. Are you always at the polls on voting day?

These are only a few of the many things that you should add to your agenda and in this way, help out your country or your community. Some people feel the school problems are only for those with children in that particular school, but we all have education at stake and we must not neglect any of our responsibilities.

On New Year's Day, make a resolution that you will increase your community activities and fulfill some of your responsibilities in this way. You will also want to resolve to increase the efficiency on your farm and to make your home a better place to live.

This is income tax filing time and you can obtain a pamphlet with the rules and regulations for filing farm income tax reports through your farm adviser's office. I would suggest you obtain this pamphlet before filling out your 1955 taxation report. There may be items that you have overlooked.

Plans have been completed to have the Ogle County Dairy Banquet at the Oregon Coliseum on Thursday night, Jan. 26. All people interested in dairying whether it be the producer or consumer, are invited. You may want to bring the entire family as I am sure you will enjoy Dr. J. G. Hays' discussion of "Bovine Architecture."

LEE CENTER — (Special) — Lee Center Home Bureau will meet Friday at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Leo Gagnon. There will be a gift exchange. Lessons will be on "Paint" and "Better Breakfasts."

Missing the Point

Forty-six people prominent in religious, educational and cultural fields, including Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, have taken a step which suggests they may have misapplied the Christmas spirit.

The 46 have asked President Eisenhower to grant a "Christmas amnesty" to 16 Communist party leaders currently serving prison terms under the federal Smith Act.

The signers assert that some of those convicted are elderly and ill, and add that their cases "were carried through in a period of the 'cold war' and in an atmosphere often marked by hysteria."

The signers' real point would seem to be that the top Communists ought never to have been jailed in the first place. With this argument other reasonable men, not at all guided by hysteria, may take issue.

The evidence adduced at the trials of the convicted Red leaders showed to the satisfaction of judge and jury that they were not mere political radicals but subversive plotters in the very worst sense of the term.

They were, in other words, participants in a conspiracy aimed at the ultimate overthrow of American democracy.

To intimate that they were victimized by the excited spirit of the times is both to misread the testimony of the trials and to misunderstand the real nature of the Communist conspiracy.

We in this country do not outlaw membership in the Communist party, nor regard such membership as automatic proof of conspiracy.

That is what the courts have said the 16 Communists are. Men who were teaching others how to blow up American electric power plants, seize radio stations and government buildings, and otherwise undermine our country in a time of crisis do not deserve amnesty at Christmas or any other time.

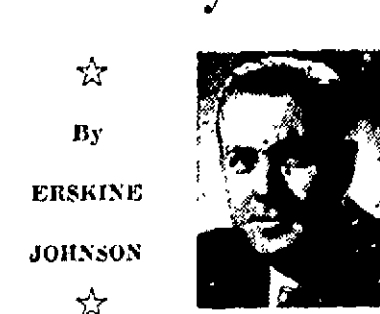

The Doctor Says:

Glandular Fever Is More Common But Remains Mild

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

One curious disease, which I have discussed several times in the past but about which I continue to receive many inquiries, is infectious mononucleosis or glandular fever. This is a disorder more common in children and young adults than it is in the older years of life.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — On-stage, Offstage & Upstage: There's no business like show business, trah, but it's time for somebody to say "No" to this Kim business in show business.

There are now three Kims—Novak, Hunter and Stanley—and it's downright embarrassing says the original Kim who started it all back in 1943.

David O. Selznick gave the Kim named Hunter the name when she was a movie starlet. He remembered it from the character in Edna Ferber's "Showboat" who was named Kim by her pop in honor of three states, Kentucky, Illinois and Missouri.

We now have three Kims—one for each state. Please, dolls, that's enough Kims.

DEBORAH KERR'S 20-foot hoop skirt for her role of Anna in "The King and I" requires her to sit in a special chair between scenes. A gagster on the set put this sign on the chair:

Anything wrong between Kathryn Grayson and Pier Angeli? Some of Pier's remarks to British scribes about replacing Kathryn in "Port Afrique" are eyebrow-raising. Like her insistence that the part was never right for La Grayson, anyhow, and that she was first choice in the first place.

Vanessa Brown has been offered the Jane Ace role in the television of the old radio hit-ticker, "Easy Aces," for NBC-TV. The folding of "My Favorite Husband" at CBS prompted the offer.

THE WITNET: Los Angeles night-club advertisement: "Six Dancing Girls." "Five Beautiful Costumes." How's that again?

Not in the Script: Marie Wilson to Groucho Marx: "If your wife wants to learn to drive, don't stand in the way."

This is Hollywood, Mrs. Jones: New hardware store owner Alan Ladd is due for a cover on Hardware News, the hardware industry's trade paper. It would be more appropriate for some hardware stars you all know.

LILI GENTLE, the Birmingham, Ala., TV discovery just signed by Fox and Vanderbilt U. grid star Gikka Morgan are keeping the love fires burning via long-distance phone calls.

Ear Witness: Richard Lyon, son of Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon, and starlet Jill Ireland are rumored altar-bound. She was with young Lyon in his recent auto accident.

Jackie Collins, the shapely 18-year-old kid sister of Joan (Girl on a Red Velvet Swing) Collins is whizzing along in British TV as a glamor starlet. . . . And Lisa Kirk would like to dedicate a love song to Charlie McCarthy: "Love Is a Many Splintered Thing."

Wanted: An Office for The Wife of Every Home

If I were building homes to sell I would include for every homemaker a small room. This room is as much needed in the running of a modern home as was the wood shed, or the fruit cellar back in the days when great-grandma cooked on a wood-burning stove and had to store her own fruits and vegetables through the long months of winter.

The room I would give every modern housewife is an office. The man who runs even the smallest one-man business has a desk and a filing system.

But a woman who runs a house, is purchasing agent for a family, who has to keep track of hundreds of assorted bits of information from Junior's next dental appointment to the right man to call when the plumbing goes bad, often has no central place to keep information and take care of the business of running a home and managing a family.

She has important telephone numbers scribbled on the telephone directory that get lost when the old directory is exchanged for a new one.

She has bills in a dresser drawer, a reminder to call the electrician stuck in a mirror, menus and recipes stuck away in a kitchen cabinet, and where she put the size of gloves John's mother wears she can't imagine—though she has spent hours looking for it.

On top of that her mind is filled with all sorts of reminders, bits of information, names, addresses, etc.—all of which could easily be filed.

So I'd give the homemaker a small, efficiently arranged office where she could sit down to write letters, balance the checkbook, make out menus and shopping lists. There would be book shelves where she could build up a handy reference library to help her with the job of homemaking, and there would be a built-in filing cabinet where she could keep all of the odds and ends of information necessary to the running of a house and her family's individual needs.

Running a home today is a business, but most homemakers don't even have a cubbyhole to use as an office. No man would try to cope with such a situation, so why should women?

Business Has A Record Year Almost Every Line Experiences Gains

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U)—Businessmen busily totting up their final accounts this week still act a little amazed at how much they produced and sold this year.

Whether it's men's suits or rubber tires, cigarettes or machine tools, the totals seem hard to believe. Merchants closing their books on a fat Christmas and readying their usual post holiday promotions report dollar sales this season topping last year's, sometimes by as much as one-fifth. The national average will be a much more modest gain, but in almost all parts of the country Christmas trade was the best ever.

Rail Earnings Good The railroads added sharply to their earnings in moving these goods around. The Assn. of American Railroads estimates the carriers will net $15 million dollars after taxes this year, a gain of 34 per cent.

Automobile production set a record and crowded the eight million car figure. Steel mills turned out a staggering 116 million tons of the metal to beat its previous record of 1953 by 4 1/2 million tons. The building industry reports Americans spent a record 42 billion dollars for construction of all types. Businessmen put out nearly 28 1/2 billion dollars for new plants and equipment, a gain of 1 1/2 billion. The National Machine Tool Builders Assn. reports 900 million dollars worth of new orders in that industry, compared with 560 million the previous year.

Aluminum Record Electronics producers moved nearly 6 1/2 billion dollars worth of their goods to market. Aluminum mills shipped a record four billion pounds of the metal, a gain of 36 per cent for the year. Americans consumed a record 1 1/2 million tons of rubber.

They bought even bigger things than cars. Devitt C. Ramsey, president of the Aircraft Industries Assn., says aircraft sales this year approach 8 1/2 billion dollars. Uncle Sam is the best customer, but private lines laid out money, and so did corporations and individuals to buy business or personal planes.

Looking ahead, businessmen spent more than four billion dollars this year for industrial research, according to Clyde Williams, president of Battelle Institute, Columbus, Ohio. This is 350 million more than was spent in 1954.

Even the rate of failures in business has a bright side. This year 42 firms in every 10,000 closed. But the average over the last 85 years has been 71 in 10,000.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland rounds it up this way: "If the description of business activity in 1955 had to be limited to one word, the most fitting would be 'tremendous.'"

The MATURE PARENT

Give Junior a Break, Let Him Do for You

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. Paul G. writes, "Our five-year-old Junior has a younger sister and baby brother. Though he likes the baby, he's very jealous of the girl. When she's napping, we get along fine; the moment she's up, the screaming and fighting start. I keep telling him that we love him as much as her. It does no good. What else can I do for him?"

The probability is, what Junior needs most, Mrs. G., is the chance to "do" for you.

This idea has not occurred to you, has it? That could be because you feel some resentment at all the work you have to do for your three young children. If you do feel any, instead of feeling ashamed of it, let's recognize it. For this resentment at the children's heavy demands on your strength would make only one response to Junior's jealousy available to you. You'd have to see it as another demand upon your strength.

The resentment would say to you, "See, what impossible things are asked of you? Now this son wants all your love, all your attention! Goodness, is there no end to what's expected of you?" And so distract your attention from the fact that the answer to Junior's jealousy is not your usefulness to him, but his to you.

"Destructiveness," writes Dr. Elrich Fromm, "is proportionate to the degree to which the unfolding of a person's capacities are blocked."

Blocked capacities is the problem of the jealous child. Let's consider how we can begin to help Junior release his.

Could Mrs. G. persuade him to become proudly responsible for putting his father's lunch box in the car every morning? Could he be installed as the family's official Telephone Answerer? Would his father show him how to seat his mother at the table, giving her the chance to acknowledge his usefulness to her at every meal? How about putting him in charge of delivering letters from the mail box?

These are just sample services Junior can render. Others will suggest themselves the instant she sees how egotistical she is to imagine that she has to do all the giving to solve his problem. She can begin to appreciate the advantage of making this little son's security depend, not on her love declarations, not on the attentions he has to share with two other children—but on his own actions, his own knowledge of himself as a useful, productive person.

"I have reached the end of my strength," writes Mrs. G.

Excellent! Sometimes, before we can see that children have strength of their own to use, we have to reach the end of ours. Such humility is necessary before we are ready to really love them. As it comes to us with its blessed release from strain and egotism, we begin to see that the jealousy, disobedience and other problems which have exhausted our strength have been just children's protests against our awful habit of monopolizing usefulness.

On Christmas

Mrs. William Dowd, 610 Nachusa av., entertained with a 6 o'clock dinner Christmas day honoring the birthday of her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Clark, Dixon. Also present were Mrs. Clark's son, Michael, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes, Dixon.

A holiday theme was used in decorating the home and the pretty birthday cake.

Next time you prepare meat patties from ground lamb, add a little ground allspice along with the salt and pepper.

Home Adviser Gives Special Holiday Hints

Perhaps your holiday entertaining ended with the Christmas weekend. Just in case you are among those planning New Year's dinner festivities, I hope you will be aided by the following cooking hints written by Miss June Pilgrim, Lee County Home Adviser.

Stuffing News

Savory stuffing is recommended for chicken or turkey. Milder flavored herbs go better with these meats. Savory, tarragon and marjoram are mild herbs. Sage is a stronger herb and goes better with goose.

Savory Stuffing

4 c. butter or other fat
1 pint chopped celery
2 c. chopped parsley
1 small onion, chopped
2 to 2½ qts med. dry bread crumbs
1 to 2 teaspoon savory seasoning
1 to 2 teaspoon salt
pepper to taste.

Cook the celery, parsley, and onion in melted fat for a few minutes. Add to the bread crumbs and dry seasonings. Stir together. This makes enough stuffing for a 10 to 12 lb. turkey. Most folks want more stuffing and in that case, fix an extra casserole.

One of the favorite bread stuffings we enjoy in our family is made with apples and raisins. It goes especially well with duck and goose. Here's a recipe: 1½ cups chopped, peeled apples; ½ c. seedless raisins, washed; 1 qt. soft bread crumbs, 2 T melted butter, 2 T sugar, ½ t. salt, dash of pepper and ½ cup milk. Combine all ingredients together. This makes a quart of stuffing sufficient for about a four-pound duck.

The general rule is to allow 1½ slices of bread for each serving of stuffing. Allow three slices for each pound of poultry, dressed weight.

For best results in taste and appearance in bread stuffing, cut or tear bread into uniform sized pieces. Crusts and end slices of fresh or day-old bread may be used. Stuffings are always best when packed lightly to give room for expansion in cooking.

For best and safest results, stuff poultry or meat just before it goes into the oven. Bake extra bread stuffing in a greased loaf pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 30 minutes. To reheat bread stuffings: place in the top of a double boiler or in a greased baking pan in a moderate oven.

To Cook Turkey

You can roast a half turkey with stuffing. The way to do it is to hold the stuffing in the cavity with brown paper, or mount it on heavy paper in the roasting rack, and roast the bird over the stuffing.

Grocers often feature half turkeys for the smaller family. In roasting the half bird, it is a good idea to tie tail and leg together by stitching clean wrapping cord through skin at end of leg and then through meat of tails. An upholsterer's needle is good for stitching. Place the cut side down in roasting pan, brush with melted fat and cover with cheese cloth or light cloth moistened with fat or cooking oil. Roast in preheated oven set at 325 degrees; allow about 25-30 minutes per pound.

For Fraternity

Norman Stripe, Bill Beamblossom, Paul Carlson and Steve Lindell, Dixon, were in Rockford Tuesday evening to attend a dinner party for members of Alpha Pi Beta fraternity in the Rockford area. The event was held in the Rockford Coliseum.

Norman and Bill attend the University of Illinois; Paul is a Cornell college student, and Steve attends Monmouth college.

Lee County Bar Pays Fine Tribute to John Devine

Nearly two dozen members of the Lee County Bar Association this morning attended a special memorial service in the Lee circuit courtroom in honor of the late John P. Devine.

Devine, veteran Dixon attorney, state legislator and "Mr. Democrat" in local political circles, died Oct. 21.

Attys. Sherwood Dixon and H. C. Warner were featured speakers for the service. Atty. Edwin Merrick, president of the county legal organization, conducted the meeting.

Following the observance, the docket for the January term of circuit court was called.

Dixon, a colleague of Devine for 30 years, said, "by any test, John Devine's life was a success."

Modest Man

He explained, "He was a man of firm religious convictions. He had a simple faith which was not a mask to be worn only in public but a code which he adhered to in his principles—the courage of his convictions."

"He was never a vain man but always a modest one. Although frequently entrusted with grave responsibilities, especially in public affairs, he discharged them faithfully but never in a sensational or spectacular way."

Dixon cited Devine's distinguished career in the Illinois General

Assembly and emphasized that he never sought recognition for legislation he helped pass—such as for the protection of property rights of widows.

"Looking back over John Devine's career we see now that he was a great lawyer. First, because he never lacked the courage to champion an unpopular cause; and second, because he not only knew the law but loved to study it."

Loved Friends

He concluded, "John Devine lived a long, full, useful, satisfying life and, on the whole, a much happier one than most. He liked people, loved friends and enjoyed the contacts with them. He always gave more than he received. Because he was that kind of a man we will all remember him with great respect and with deep and lasting affection."

Warner, life-long friend and neighbor of Devine, termed him "one of our most highly esteemed friends and one of our most valuable citizens."

He cited his close friendship with Devine from boyhood and said he was "recognized as a man of broad legal learning with an analytical trend of mind."

Both Devine and Warner were honored earlier this year for being members of the bar association for 50 years.

"Sense of Justice"

Warner called him a "determined opponent" in court but stressed that he had a "sense of justice which led him to be gentle with frailties of his fellow men."

He added, "His long record of more than 20 years in the Illinois Legislature and his voluntary retirement gives positive proof that his meritorious service was always of the highest type and without criticism."

He concluded by citing the words of Shakespeare as said by Anthony over the body of Brutus in "Julius Caesar":

"His life was noble, and the elements so mixed in him that nature could stand and say to all the world, 'This was a MAN.'"

Lee County Bar Opposes Laymen In Tax Hearings

The Lee County Bar Association this morning adopted a resolution opposing proposed federal legislation that would permit laymen to appear for or represent other laymen in court in tax cases.

Atty. George Nichols explained the proposed legislation, known as House resolutions 1601 and 2416, would empower the secretary of the treasury to appoint persons other than attorneys in tax cases.

This legislation does not affect those assisting persons in making out their income tax, Nichols explained.

Senators Everett Dirksen and Paul Douglas and Representative Leo Allen will be informed of the local organization's stand, according to Edwin Merrick, president.

The Illinois Bar Association also urged the local contingent to oppose the proposed legislation, which will be brought up for action by Congress when it convenes next month.

Fane said that his mother, who has been caring for the children since their mother disappeared, was forced to go back to work because of economic reasons.

Earlier investigation disclosed that Fane and his wife had quarreled the day she reportedly walked out on him.

Mrs. Fane had been described as a religious and conscientious mother. Both Fane and authorities had expressed hope that she might contact her family on Christmas Day.

Chief of Police Earl Kelchner has said that Mrs. Fane's physician described her emotional condition as "depressed" but not mentally ill.

All of her relatives and known friends have been contacted by authorities but the results have been negative.

Fane, a turbine operator for the Public Service Co., said today that he planned to remain in Dixon.

Await Autopsies for Lead To Deaths of 3 Brothers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police awaited the results of autopsies today for a possible lead in the mysterious deaths of three elderly bachelor brothers in their old-fashioned home in south St. Louis.

Police broke into the three-story brick house and found the bodies of the Hoenig brothers—Charles, 62, George, 64, and Henry 67—in bed Tuesday night, clad in under-clothing.

Officers said the bodies were unmarked and there were no signs of violence in the home. There was no note and no odor of gas indicating they might have been asphyxiated. They used a coal stove for heating.

A thorough search for bottles, containers or other items that might have indicated poison deaths disclosed nothing. All doors and windows in the house were locked.

George Hoenig, a bookkeeper for the same St. Louis firm the past 35 years, was the only one employed.

Charles was deaf and acted as the housekeeper. He took care of Henry, who was blind.

Police were called after Erle R. Keney, an officer of the firm which employed George Hoenig, was unable to rouse any of the occupants of the house when he went there to find out why George hadn't been at work since Thursday.

Police found seven unopened envelopes from a steel company dating back several months in the house. Neighbors, who described the brothers as somewhat eccentric, said the envelopes contained dividend checks.

Oliva Dionne, the quint's father, said Tuesday none of the four girls visited the family at their Callander, Ont., home or even sent cards at Christmas. It was the first Christmas the girls have spent away from home since they were born.

"We were not surprised when they did not come home," he said. "We have realized for some months that they have been drifting away from us. In fact, lately they have been treating their brothers and sisters almost with contempt."

Yvonne, a student nurse with her sister Cecile at a Montreal hospital, tearfully denied any rift. She sobbed:

"Don't believe it, it's not true. We sent a Christmas card. Is it our fault if they didn't get it?"

She added that they did not telephone their parents because "we were on duty. It's not easy, this job."

Another of the 21-year-old sisters, Marie, left a Quebec convent last November and went to the same hospital to be treated for overhauling. Annette, who was studying art at Nicolet, Que., joined Marie in November after a landslide closed the school.

Yvonne said "Marie and Annette are supposed to be going home for New Year's. Cecile and I will be working."

The fifth quint, Emilie, died in August, 1951, at St. Agathe, Que., from asphyxiation suffered during an epileptic attack.

Each of the four surviving sisters received more than $200,000 when they became 21 last May 28. Their father and mother live with three of their other children in a $50,000, 19-room house built after the quint was born.

The father blamed "outsiders" he would not identify for the alleged rift with his daughters.

U. S. Population At 200 Million In Twenty Years

NEW YORK (AP)—A Census Bureau official estimates that the population of the United States will exceed the 200 million mark within 20 years.

Howard G. Brunsman, chief of the population and housing division of the bureau, told the winter meeting of the American Marketing Assn., Tuesday that the present estimated population of 166 million represents an increase of 15 million in the last 5 1/2 years.

Growth in the last three years, Brunsman said, has been greater by half a million than the highest prior estimate. Consequently, he said, projections into the future have been revised upward.

"The new projections yield estimates of population ranging from 186 million to 193 million in 1965, and from 207 million to 223 million in 1975," he said.

Christmas this year for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bath was both novel and rewarding. The former Alice Street Watson of Dixon and her husband and daughter, Margaret Ann, left Nahant, Mass., a few weeks ago and motored across the continent to a Navajo Indian reservation at Steamboat Canyon, Ariz., where Richard began his new duties as vice-principal of a government Indian school.

The family is isolated by 80 miles, much of which is washboard gravel road, from Gallup, N. M., or Holbrook, Ariz. Canada, Ariz., 20 miles away, is a small village, boasting two trading posts. Extremes of weather, with frequent snowstorms followed by the thawing of a warm sun, turn roads into mud and make travel conditions unpredictable.

There are 180 Indian children living at the school, whose nomadic parents welcome the security it affords them. Richard terms these children "wonderful." Most of the 20 families living on the reservation are Navajos.

According to letters received from the Baths by Dixon friends, they were expecting a desert Christmas tree to be brought to them—probably a little pine—but Mrs. Bath was prepared to decorate a cactus if it became necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Street spent Christmas in Chicago with their niece, Miss Evelyn Street.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fordham for Christmas Eve turkey dinner and gift opening were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulmer and son, Bob Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Castle, Mt. Morris, were among the guests at Christmas dinner in the Leo McGinnis home, Grand Detour.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Dypold and their three children, Rocky River, Cleveland, O., arrived a few days before Christmas to spend the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harms, Palmyra.

The Harms' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reents and Judy, Sterling, entertained both families on Christmas Day.

The Dypolds left Monday, planning to stop in Hammond, Ind., their former home, to be guests of friends.

Miss Shirley McConaughay returned Tuesday to Rockford, where she is a student nurse at Rockford Memorial hospital, after a 10-day Christmas vacation with her family, the Clyde McConaughays, 627 Lincoln Ave.

Miss Mary McGinnis is spending her holiday vacation with relatives in Dixon. Miss McGinnis is a teacher in the Polo schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Billeb, 223 N. Lincoln Ave., entertained Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Drew and family on Christmas night.

Charles A. Russell received his honorable discharge from the Navy in time to arrive in Dixon for Christmas with his parents, the John E. Russells, 514 Nachusa Ave., and his wife, the former Carole Stoddard. The young couple plans to make their home in Dixon.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru has sent to his Cabinet a formal note describing the speeches of Soviet leaders while on tour here as embarrassing to the Indian government, reliable sources said today.

The note was said to cite the "great difficulty" however, of taking any action to soft-pedal the speeches of Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Khrushchev, who used India platform to assail Western nations.

During their tour, despite India's avowed neutrality in the cold war, Bulganin and Khrushchev repeatedly blasted "Western colonialism," pro-Western pacts such as the SEATO and Baghdad alliances, openly sided with India on the Kashmir and Goa issues and used an Indian platform to announce the explosion of the Soviet Union's biggest hydrogen bomb.

Poll Shows GOP Leaders Think Ike to Run Again

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A big majority of Republican leaders now seem to be convinced President Eisenhower will run again.

The Associated Press today completed a poll of 134 Republican governors, state chairmen, national committeemen or national committeewomen.

They were asked: "Do you believe Eisenhower will run again?" This is their answer:

Yes 77
No 19
No 17
Don't know or no comment 21

The "yes, if" classification is for those who said yes, if he has recovered sufficiently from his heart attack of last September.

A follow-up question also was asked: "If not, whom do you consider most likely to win the GOP nomination?"

Few Speculate

Since most of the politicians already had said they thought the President would run again, not many cared to speculate on what will happen if he doesn't.

Ten said they think Vice President Richard Nixon has the best chance if Eisenhower drops out.

Other suggestions included:

Sen. William F. Knowland (Calif.), Chief Justice Earl Warren, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, Rep. Joe Martin (Mass.), Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (Mass.), Sen. Everett Dirksen (Ill.), Gov. Christian Herter (Mass.), Gov. William G. Stratton (Ill.), former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey (N.Y.), United Nations representative Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and Harold Stassen, a special assistant to the President.

Hopes on Ike

But, mostly, the Republicans pinned their hopes on Eisenhower running again.

Some sample quotes:

Mrs. Kathryn K. Meloney, Wyoming national committeewoman: "I'm confident he'll run again. He won't let the nation down."

Perry Compton, Missouri state chairman: He will run and "will win re-election handily. He is too good a soldier not to continue assisting his country when it needs help."

Some conceded their predictions were based on little more than a hunch.

Mrs. Raymond W. Wheeler, Massachusetts committeewoman, said, "Yes, on a guess, because Leonard Hall (the GOP national chairman) looks so happy."

It's Too Early

Others felt it still is too early for predictions.

Most of the 17 who don't think Eisenhower will run again preferred to remain anonymous.

Of those who don't know, Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio pretty well sums up the sentiment:

"Who knows? Right now I don't think even the President does."

Ham Fisher, Cartoonist, Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Ham Fisher, creator of the popular comic strip hero Joe Palooka, was found dead Tuesday night in a friend's studio.

Nearby were two notes indicating suicide, police reported.

Fisher, 54, whose full name was Hammond Edward Fisher, wrote in the notes of failing eyesight and a diabetic condition. He said that he had swallowed some pills.

The body was discovered about 9 p.m. in the studio of Moe Left, where Fisher had been working lately during his friend's absence from town. The discovery was made by another friend, Morris Weiss of Englewood, N. J., whom Fisher's wife Marilyn had called after becoming alarmed over not hearing from her husband.

Fisher, whose strip was syndicated at the time of his death in some 800 newspapers, was a self-taught cartoonist. He practiced his art in spare time while working as a reporter and advertising salesman on his home town newspaper, the Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) Record.

The Joe Palooka strip was started in 1930 after Fisher came to New York. Joe began as a not-too-bright and guileless young fighter but later developed into a gentle, well-spoken chap devoted to sportsmanship and fair play. Many episodes in the strip highlighted his fight against bigotry and intolerance.

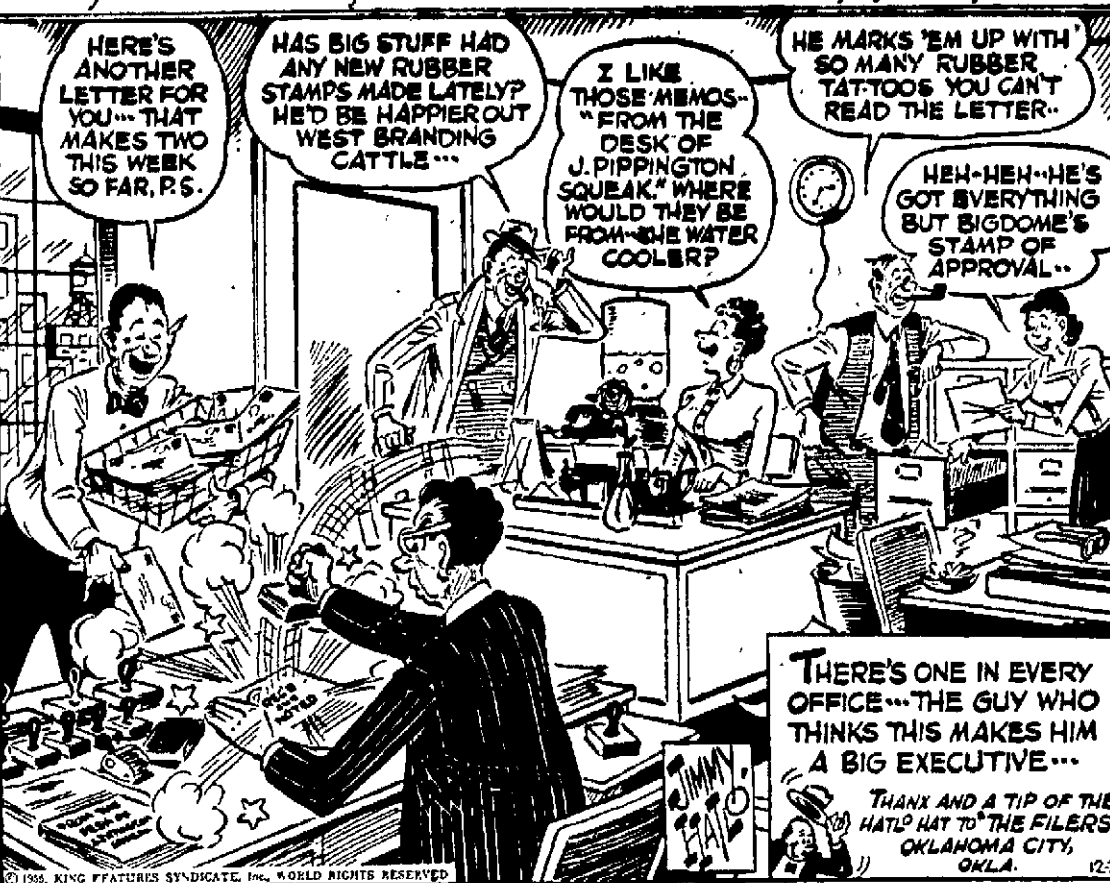

The strip brought Fisher wealth and fame. He became vice president of the Lancaster & Chester Railroad and a director of the American Title & Mortgage Co. of Miami, Fla. He briefly branched into radio and movies.

In addition to his wife and mother, Mrs. Sadie B. Fisher, he is survived by a daughter, Wendy Lee.

Chicago Studies Roadblocks for New Year Drunks

CHICAGO (AP)—If Mayor Richard Daley has his way, roadblocks will be set up New Year's weekend as spotchecks on drunk drivers.

The mayor may make his proposal at today's emergency meeting of city police. Traffic safety and school officials He called the meeting Tuesday after expressing shock at the loss of 14 lives through traffic accidents over the Christmas weekend.

"We must get public opinion aroused so that not too much liquor will be served at parties," he said, adding: "We will even consider setting up roadblocks to spot check for intoxicated drivers."

Daley said all possible action will be taken to prevent a recurrence of the Christmas holiday toll, the highest in recent years within the city.

Internal Revenue Reverses Previous 'No-Help' Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service stands ready to fill out your income tax returns for you next year, as in years past.

Russell C. Harrington, the new internal revenue commissioner, Tuesday countermanded orders which would have barred such help to all but the illiterate, the physically handicapped and persons unable to read English.

The original orders were issued to all regional and district tax offices last Oct. 17 at the direction of Harrington's predecessor T. Coleman Andrews. They had evoked some protests in Congress.

Those instructions said the taxpayer assistance program should be limited to showing citizens how to prepare their returns, but should not furnish "unlimited service to all taxpayers . . ."

Harrington told his subordinates

Tuesday, the revenue service's policy is "to provide all taxpayers with all of the advice and assistance they need in preparing their returns . . ." He said the previously issued instructions were "too restrictive."

In World War II, the Japanese lost 130 submarines and the Germans 782, while the United States lost only 52.

Mounders in Semi-Finals

Top St. Thomas By 62-58 Score

First-Round Action Continues Tonight in Fulton Tourney

FULTON (Special)—Mt. Morris and Prophetstown came through with close victories here Tuesday night to reach the semi-finals of the eight-team Fulton Holiday Tournament.

Coach J. R. Worley's Mounders relied on a second-half rally to pull through in the 7:15 tournament opener against St. Thomas of Rockford. The Mounders won 62 to 58.

Prophetstown Advances

In the second game of the night, Prophetstown was carried into two overtimes before they could subdue a stubborn Erie five, 78 to 76.

First-round action will be completed tonight, as Geneseo of the NCIC faces Tampico at 7:15 and the Fulton Steamers, Illowa Conference leaders, battle Newman Catholic of Sterling in a preview of their scheduled Jan. 10 Illowa loop tussle.

Thursday night play matches Mt. Morris against Prophetstown at 7:15 and tonight's winners at 8:30. The finals are slated for 8:30 Friday night, preceded by a consolation clash the same night at 7:15.

Nip and Tuck

Mt. Morris swept to a 20-14 first-quarter lead against the Tommies, but the latter fought back to pull ahead 30-28 at the half. The Mt. Morris club regained the upper hand at the end of the third frame, pulling in front by 47 to 45.

Finally the Blackhawk Conference five went ahead to stay early in the fourth quarter, and held a lead of six to eight points for much of the final period.

Hanke Gets 17

Bob Hanke, with 17, and Dick Highberger, with 16, helped the Mounders five chalk up their sixth win in seven starts. St. Thomas was led by Harezlak, whose six field goals and 12 free throws accounted for 24 markers. The scoring:

MT. MORRIS (62): Bartow 6;

Zickuhr 8; Messer 11; Highberger 16; Hoffman 4; Hanke 17.
ST. THOMAS (58): Zuzevich 10; Harezlak 24; Collins 8; Vitale 11; Keating 3.

Cardinals Play At Mt. Carroll

Forreston Cagers Face Port Byron in Tourney

MT. CARROLL (Special)—Forreston's Route 72 league leaders, one of the school's finest teams in recent years, bowed into the 16-team Mt. Carroll Tournament today with high hopes of grabbing the top prize in one of the toughest tournaments in the 13-year history of the annual Mt. Carroll meet.

The Cards were scheduled against Port Byron at 3:30. Thomson, Stockton Open

A game between Thomson and Stockton opened the day's play at 2, and two more contests were scheduled tonight, at Mt. Carroll's Blackhawk Conference entry prepared to battle undefeated East Dubuque at 7 and Chadwick's unbeaten Silver Streaks awaited their 8:30 clash with Elizabeth.

Four of the 16 teams were already eliminated from championship contention in Tuesday games, as Shannon, Milledgeville, Lanark and Orangeville kept their hopes alive with victories.

Shannon opened the tourney at 2 p.m. by bumping Hillsdale 87 to 48. Then Milledgeville of the Blackhawk Conference knocked off Savanna's Illowa Conference crew in an overtime thriller, 72-70.

Lanark Wins
Another Blackhawk entry, the Lanark Beavers, followed with a 70-50 triumph over Scales Mound. Orangeville's powerful Stephenson County Conference leaders, pre-tournament favorites, then disposed of Hanover by a 66-57 count.

Coach Bob Brinkmeier of Forreston, whose team is 6-0 in

Byron Will Open Play In Tourney

Tigers, Winnebago, Durand, Pecatonica In 4-Team Meeting

DURAND (Special)—Byron, Winnebago and Pecatonica of the Route 72 Conference head northward tonight for the first annual Durand Holiday Tournament. Two games tonight and two Thursday night will wind up the four-team event, with trophies to be awarded both for championship and consolation honors.

Coach Joe Parks' Byron Tigers will open tournament play tonight at 7:30 against a Durand club they defeated on the same court in their season opener, 55-51.

Parks Names Lineup

Parks, whose team has a 3-3 league record and a 4-5 showing for the season, has indicated that he'll start Jim Cox and Richard Harding at the forwards, Dave Jackson at center, and Bob Heidenreich and Mel Johnson at the guards.

Tonight's second game, at 9:15, will pit Pecatonica against Winnebago. In a previous Route 72 Conference game at Winnebago Dec. 13 the Winnebago Indians triumphed by a 67-54 score.

Winnebago has a 4-2 record in conference play compared to Pecatonica's 2-3 league chart.

Split With Foes

Byron, incidentally, beat Winnebago 53-42 and lost to Pecatonica 56-54 in consecutive games on the Byron court earlier this month.

Winners of tonight's games meet in the championship final Thursday night at 9:15, while the losers tangle at 7:30 for third place.

N. U. Adds Coaches

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Ara Parseghian, Northwestern's new head football coach, has named two former assistants at Miami of Ohio to his staff.

Richard Ulrich, an end coach, and Bruce Beatty, a tackle coach, were picked Tuesday by Parseghian. Both are 27. Still to be selected are two more assistants and a freshman coach.

Hawks Begin DeKalb Play

Others Keep Hopes Alive By First-Round Triumphs

DEKALB (Special)—Oregon and Genoa-Kingston will become the last two teams to complete first-round action when they collide tonight at 9 in the eighth game of this oldest continuous holiday hoop tournament in the state of Illinois.

For Coach Ray McMillan's Oregon Hawks, 6-2 for the season and 3-0 in the Blackhawk Conference, it will be the same starting lineup which has been given the nod in all the Hawks' games this season. The starters are forwards Dick Haas and Joe Hodges, center Len Montalbano, and guards Jack Gladley and Tim Samsaman.

Oregon edged past Genoa-Kingston last year in the same tournament.

First-round action Tuesday in the DeKalb meet, held in the spacious North Illinois State College gym, found favored Sycamore and three other teams staying 'alive' in the championship bracket.

Sycamore, paced by Bert Frederick's 18 points, rolled over Morrison in the opening game at 1:30 p.m. In the 3 o'clock clash Leyden scored a 92-47 decision over Maple Park. Belvidere then squeezed past Shabbona 75-72 in a game which got underway at 7:30.

But the closest match of all was the evening's final contest, as the Rock Falls Rockets needed a bucket by Neal Otten in the third overtime to whip St. Charles 64 to 62.

Action today, in addition to the Oregon game, put DeKalb against Waterman at 1:30, Rochelle against Kirland at 3:30 and Aurora West against Woodstock at 7:30. Sycamore is seeking its third championship in the history of the tournament. The DeKalb Barbs, who knocked off Sycamore last week, is rated the best chance of beating Sycamore for the trophy.

In Polo Tourney—

Marcos Play Tonight

POLO (Special)—The Polo Marcos of the Blackhawk Conference move into action tonight against Monroe Center of the Route 72 loop in the second game of a three-game slate tonight in the Polo Holiday Tournament, thus completing first-round action.

Two other games are carded, with first-round losers Lena and Rockton playing in the 6:15 opener and Somanauk and Dakota, first-round winners, closing out the night's schedule with a winner's bracket semi-finals battle.

Three Teams Advance

Favored Somanauk and teams from Lakota and Galena won in

Tuesday night's first-round action which inaugurated tournament play.

Somanauk didn't walk off with a token victory against Lena, however. They won by a 60-58 score, but only after Bob Shaffer had hit with three buckets and Wayne Christopher with one to wipe out a 56-52 Lena lead in the final minute and a half of play.

Shaffer's 21 led the winners, while Bill Peters was high for Lena with 18.

Dakota Wins
Dakota, sparked by Ernest Miller's 19 points, whipped Rockton 72-47. Miller's five fielders and 9 of 10 free throws edged Rockton's Altanberg, who had 18, for high scoring honors.

In the final game of the night Leaf River's cagers, the Route 72 cellar dwellers, fell at the hands of Galena by a 65-61 count. Pivot man Wattelworth, with 12 field goals and seven charity shots, spearheaded the winner's attack with 31 tallies. Schultz's 24 led Leaf River.

Polo Starters Listed

Tonight against Monroe Center, one of the stronger teams in the tournament with 3-3 record in the Route 72 circuit, Polo Coach Joe Jobst plans to start the following team:

Dean Wilson and Craig McGuire at forwards, Jerry Wolf at center, and Larry Bowen and Bob Cassens at guards.

Walnut, Ohio Drop Openers

Earlville Tourney Continues; Amboy Clippers Battle Malta

EARLVILLE (Special)—Walnut and Ohio were among the first-round losers here Tuesday night in the first three games of the Earlville Holiday Tournament. Eight teams are entered.

Walnut dropped an 88-66 decision to the LaMoille Lions of the Little Eight, and then another Little Eight team, the Ohio Bulldogs, were bounced by Tonica, 73-42.

Earlville Wins

In the tournament opener earlier in the evening Earlville of the Little Ten routed another member of the same conference, Plano, by the score of 78 to 45.

Coach Larry Martens' Amboy

Likely starters for Amboy are Kuffel and Ahim at the forwards, Richards at center, with Anderson and either Friel or Fischer at the guards.

A 23-point third quarter did the job for LaMoille against Walnut. It was a close game throughout the first half, as LaMoille led 18-15 at the quarter and 39-34 by halftime.

But LaMoille's hot-shooting Lions started to connect in the third quarter, and improving their defense, held a 23-12 advantage during that frame. That put them ahead by 62-40 with a quarter to go, and it was easy sailing from then on.

27 Points Each

A pair of sharp-shooting forwards, Hild and Chaden, connected for 27 points apiece to pace the winners' attack. For Walnut, out-rebounded in the absence of their center, Waterhouse, who was out with sickness, Ronnie Gloden was high man with 15. He was followed by teammate Ed O'Bryan, who collected 14.

Ohio Bulldog's were beset by illness too, with Anderson and Sheridan playing part of the game under the handicap of the flu. Tonica sewed up the game in the first quarter, spurring to a 21-8 advantage at the end of the first period and increasing it 43-20 at intermission time. Tonica's dominance continued during the third period, as they moved to an insurmountable 60-30 lead at the three-quarter point.

Free Throw Edge
Tonica, hitting on 19 of 29 free throws compared to an 0-5 reading by Ohio in the same department, was spearheaded by Cave and Fritz. Cave, the Tonica center, threw in 20 points. Fritz hit for 18. Top man for Ohio was Dave Eberhardt, who had 18. Tom Gurgerty added 12 to the Bulldog attack.

Scoring for the Walnut-LaMoille and Ohio-Tonica games:
LA MOILLE (88): Hild 27; Chaden 27; Jontz 12; Feik 11; Becker 6; Adkins 2.

WALNUT (66): O'Bryan 14; Carlson 8; Etheridge 3; Gloden 15; Burkeley 10; Edson 6; Langford 2; Jenner 2.

TONICA (73): Earls 3; Watson 10; Fritz 18; Trumpinski 2; Cave 20; Seimers 5; Foliz 7; Alnick 2; Klemm 6.

OHIO (42): Ioder 2; Gurgerty 12; Willey 6; Sheridan 2; Townsend 2; Etheridge 18.

Lineups Named By Coaches for Blue-Gray Tilt

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—With the big game only two days away, rival coaches have settled on their offensive and defensive teams for the 18th annual Blue-Gray football game here Saturday.

Art Davis, Mississippi State half-back, and Bob Hardy, Kentucky, were elected co-captains of the Gray team Tuesday. They're on the offensive line.

South Backs Named

LSU's fullback, O. K. Ferguson and North Carolina's Ken Kellez round out the South's offensive backfield.

Offensively the forewell will be made up of LSU's Joe Tumelle and Howard Schellenberger of Kentucky at ends; Jim Barron of Mississippi State and North Carolina's Bill Koman, tackles; Scott Suber of Mississippi State and Bryan Burnthorne of Tulane, guards; and Jack Prater of VPI, center.

The Gray defensive team shapes up with two Alabama stars, Curtis Lynch and Nick Germanos, ends; Eddie Rayburn of Rice and Don Goss of SMU, tackles; Jack Mautsly of North Carolina and Tony Sardisco of Tulane, guards; Wingo Avery of Clemson and Burleigh Arnecke of SMU, linebackers; Chuck Johns of LSU and Dick Moloney of Kentucky, halfbacks.

Yankee Offense

Offensive starters for the Yankees are Jack Hecker of Bowling Green and Harold Burnme of Missouri or Leonard Zyda of Purdue, ends; Ken Panfil of Purdue and Al Portney of Missouri, tackles; Dave Weaver of Ohio State and Mike Falls of Minnesota, guards, and Allen Baumgart of Detroit, center.

Jim Halskus, a sure shot passer from Wisconsin, will be at quarterback when the Blues have the ball with halfbacks Lou Baldacci of Michigan and Joe Marconi of West Virginia and Roger Weigmann of Iowa in the fullback slot.

Blue Defensive Unit

The starting defensive unit for the Blues will consist of Franz Koencke of Minnesota and Joe Pappetti of West Virginia at ends. Roger Swedberg of Iowa and Ed Meads of Michigan at tackles, Jack O'Toole of Wichita and Sam Selerno of Colorado at guards, with "Duke" Karnosack of Colorado and Gary Glick of Colorado A and M at linebackers, and backs Doug Roether of Kansas State, Ed Albright of Syracuse and Jerry Zaleska of Colorado A and M or Jerry Harkrader of Ohio State.

Pep, Arel Battle Tonight on Video

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Angelo Dundee, trainer and manager of young Andy Arel, thinks "a lot of people are going to be surprised" when his boy meets the old master, Willie Pep, in a lightweight 10-round fight tonight.

"Andy and I know what we're doing," Dundee said. "If I didn't think Andy had a chance, I wouldn't take the fight."

Iba's Aggie Cagers May Be Headed Back

By JOE REICHLER

The Associated Press

Hank Iba's Oklahoma Aggies, once a powerhouse in the national college basketball picture, may be headed back toward the top.

The once-beaten Cowboys from Oklahoma made it seven victories in a row Tuesday night when they recovered from a 15-point deficit to whip Texas Tech 65-47 in the first round of the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City. Mack Carter was high man for the victors with 25 points.

Meet No. 10 Team

The Aggies meet Oklahoma City, the nation's 10th-ranked team, in half of the semi-finals tonight. Oklahoma City was pushed by a surprisingly tough Pennsylvania team before winning 74-62.

First-seeded Seattle and Tulsa, other victors in the first round, will clash in the first game tonight. Seattle edged New Orleans Loyola 74-70 and Tulsa nipped Idaho State 60-59 in the last seven seconds on a 10-foot jump shot by John Yates.

Iowa State pulled a surprise in the Big Seven Conference tournament by knocking off favored Kansas State 79-71, but the biggest upset of the night took place in Seattle where Washington set back strongly favored Iowa—the nation's sixth-ranking team, 76-71, in a non-tournament game.

Hawkeyes Stunned
The Hawkeyes, paced by Jim Coshow, who poured in 24 points, grabbed a 30-23 halftime lead and the stunned Hawkeyes never recovered.

Colorado joined Iowa State in the Big Seven semi-finals, downing Oklahoma 58-49. Defending champion Missouri meets Nebraska and Kansas opposes Cornell, the guest team in the remaining first-round games tonight. The semi-finals get under way tomorrow.

Defending champion Louisville, 11th ranked in the AP poll, parlayed its superior height and all-around marksmanship into a 103-82 victory over Arizona in the first round of the Kentucky Invitational at Louisville. The Cardinals joined Murray State, Western and Eastern Kentucky in the semifinals.

Morehead Upset
Murray upset favored Morehead 106-97; Western Kentucky whipped Ohio U. 76-60 and Eastern Kentucky routed Bowling Green 94-65.

Brigham Young and defending champion Detroit marched into the finals of the Motor City Classic. BYU's Terry Tebbis, a 5-9, 150-pound dynamo, scored 36 points to set a tournament record leading his team to an 89-70 triumph over Toledo. Bill Ebben scored 26 as Detroit swept past Penn State 91-58. Brigham Young and Detroit meet tonight for the championship with Toledo facing Penn State for third place.

Miami Whips Yale
Another upset took place in Miami Beach when the University of Miami came from behind to nip favored Yale 92-89 in the second game of the opening day's play in the Orange Bowl Tournament. Tulane, with Roy Stoll scoring 39 points, thrashed New York University 80-92 in the first game.

In a non-tournament game, Indiana, with Wally Choice hitting for 26 points, downed Butler 94-70 for its sixth victory in seven starts. Ron Kramer scored 25 points to lead Michigan to a 78-69 triumph over Denver.

Princeton's Tigers put on a mighty second half drive, coming from behind to defeat Northwestern and hand the winless Wildcats their sixth straight loss, 58-65. In other games, Bradley defeated College of Pacific 71-49, and Loyola of Chicago whipped North Dakota 88-73.

Indiana State Wins
Indiana State and Emporia, Kan., Teachers won their first round games in the four-day Midwest Collegiate Tournament. Indiana State stopped Taylor 77-71 and Emporia beat Findlay 83-63.

Roger Steffan, Former White House Aide, Dies

VISTA, Calif. (AP)—Roger Steffan, retired New York banker, newspaper publisher and for two years operations director at the White House, is dead at 63.

He succumbed to a heart attack while swimming Tuesday in the pool at his nearby Palm Hill ranch.

A native of Osborne, Ohio, Steffan graduated with a Phi Beta Kappa key from Ohio State University in 1913. He owned a newspaper for a time in Durham, N. C., and was in the banking business in New York from 1919 to 1952.

He retired as vice president of the National City Bank of New York and accepted the newly created post of director of operations at the White House, where he worked under Sherman Adams, assistant to the President.

In this job he directed the activities of the staff and the handling of some 25,000 letters a month addressed to the President. Later, he headed a special economic advisory mission to Formosa.

After World War I, he worked for The Associated Press in Washington.

He leaves the widow, Martha, and a daughter, Mrs. Pamela Lindus of Pasadena, Calif.

Release More Salk Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service today announced release of another 1,368,306 doses of Salk antipolio vaccine.

This made a total of 3,414,213 cubic centimeters—or doses—released thus far in December, and raised to 29,961,831 c.c.'s the total of vaccine released since April 12 when six drug houses were licensed to make it.

The new supply included 279,900 c.c.'s made by Wyeth Laboratories, Marietta, Pa.—the first Wyeth vaccine released since Aug. 9. The remaining 1,088,406 were made by Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis.

A health service spokesman said the increased supply released this month after the low totals for October and November reflected a smoothing out in production procedures.

The health service allocated 1,365,814 c.c.'s of the new supply to the states, territories and the arm-

Those Governors!

CHICAGO (AP)—As governors, some state chief executives can come up with some pretty big whoppers.

It all started when Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton proposed a national turkey contest in conjunction with the National Turkey Federation convention in Chicago Jan. 4-6.

He wrote the 47 other governors inviting their states to enter their biggest birds in the heaviest gobbler contest.

Stratton set the tone in his letters. He gave indications that other states would find it tough to outweigh Illinois' prize turkey entry because:

"Illinois' really big turkeys have been shipped for years to India to pull mired elephants from muddy places. This state will have to compete with its ordinary king-size turkeys, the variety which is used for bulldozing operations. . . ."

Utah's Gov. Lee said his state hoped to enter but was now "considering sending in military tanks" to help round the big birds that already had "uprooted their 20-foot enclosure."

Gov. Leader of Pennsylvania accepted the invitation. He sent along a picture of himself with his state's entry. The turkey is twice the size of Leader.

Oregon's turkeys frequently are hitched to plows to help with the farm work, wrote Gov. Patterson.

Gov. Muskie of Maine declined Stratton's invitation "with deep regret," explaining:

"Our turkeys are just too large to ship by any means of transportation now known to man. A full grown Maine turkey won't fit into a boxcar, and no transport plane now in existence could lift even a drumstick. . . ."

ed services for use under the voluntary control program. The other 12,492 were reserved for the free program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

There are more Eskimos than Indians in Alaska.

Washington was admitted to the Union in November, 1889.

Army Deserter Gets Two Years At Hard Labor

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—An American Army private pleaded guilty today to deserting to Communist East Germany with his German girl friend. He was sentenced to two years at hard labor.

A seven-member general court-martial imposed the maximum sentence on Kenneth D. Miller, 23, of San Francisco.

The sentence also includes a dishonorable discharge and loss of all pay and allowances. It is subject to review by higher authorities.

Miller crossed into East Germany April 21, 1954, with Irme-gard Bamberg. They were nabbed by Russian troops after they got only 50 yards inside Communist controlled territory. Later the Communists let him work at an automobile plant in East Germany.

Miller returned voluntarily last Sept. 3. He gave himself up to U. S. Army authorities, who charged him with desertion. He said he quit the east because he didn't like conditions there.

In a statement to the court, Miller said he fled to the East with Miss Bamberg because of "unjust military treatment" in his Army unit. This, he said, included disapproval by his commanding officer of going with a German girl because he was already married.

San Juan, Puerto Rico's capital, is the oldest city in the New World under the Stars and Stripes, being established in 1510.

United States submarines sank 214 naval and 1178 merchant vessels during World War II.

Flood Zone Faces Huge Task of Repairing Damage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Northern California faced the Herculean task of cleaning up after the worst floods in its history today as threats of further danger diminished before the first generally fair weather in two weeks.

But the rising toll of known deaths was up to 34 today, and no one could say how many more bodies might be found. Estimates of those missing and possibly dead ranged from 19 to 35 or more.

Heroic work of Army, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard men who manned boats, trucks, amphibians, helicopters and planes cut the loss of life by hundreds.

Damage $150 Millions
Damage estimates rose to 150 million dollars as reeling flood waters permitted new assessments of the inundated areas. Army engineers said more than a million acres had been under water.

The Weather Bureau reported Tuesday night in its weekly summary that as much as 31 inches of rain fell last week in north coastal California and that floods from the Oregon line to Visalia 500 miles south were the worst the state had ever experienced.

The crews battling the still swollen rivers appeared to have surmounted the last major danger late yesterday. The high ocean tide which backed water up into the San Joaquin - Sacramento delta area east of San Francisco passed without additional flooding.

Two of the rich delta islands—Empire Tract and Quimby Island—were flooded Monday night when soggy levees caved in. It had been feared that others might collapse.

Tuesday night in Eureka, Val Peterson, U. S. civil defense director, told state, county and federal officials that within the next two days representatives of "all appropriate agencies" will move into the flood areas to take up the federal part of the rehabilitation job.

Summon Guardsmen
Gov. Goodwin Knight Tuesday ordered 300 more National Guardsmen to duty and sent them to Yuba City and Marysville, where it was feared that looting and sanitation might become serious problems as waters receded from the evacuated cities.

The Southern Pacific Railroad resumed direct transcontinental rail service from northern California over the Sierra Tuesday and said that its service to Portland and through the valleys was back to normal.

The four women testified they had paid $85 tuition to Blake only to find the supermarkets got their meat wrappers from a union and never heard of the school proprietor.

Judge Smith awarded refunds of $40 to Mrs. Grace Klinger, Eva Lopez and Angie Gonzalez. All said Blake inferred he would get them jobs. Betty Soto got the full $85 back. She said Blake promised to place her after "graduation from his college."
